DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 7, 8, 20, 21, 24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Logan et al. (US005721827A).
3. Logan et al. teaches (independent claims 1 and 7) a method and system for distributing personalized, multimedia information, including advertising, to a subscriber over the Internet (col. 1 lines 39-47, col. 3 line 32 and col. 4 lines 26-27), which reads on e-mail-based opt-in marketing, the method comprising: providing an ad server/webmaster server (host server 101), database 130 and subscriber device (player 103) connected to the Internet (Fig. 1 and col. 3 lines 1-2 and col. 4 lines 21-27); providing software instructions on each webmaster server/host server 101 for collecting an e-mail address for said subscriber device (when the subscriber first subscribes) and storing said e-mail address on said database by having an operator of said subscriber device input said e-mail address (post subscriber supplied information, col. 6 lines 48-56) and make a selection to opt-in for delivery of an ezine from a plurality of available ezines.
4. The server periodically provides information, so any continuing series so delivered (e.g., serialized programs, col. 18 lines 47-55, of news or music, col. 28 line 59 to col. 29 line 19) reads on an ezine. The subscriber's Internet address reads on e-mail address. The specification does not specify a "clear definition" for "e-mail" (MPEP § 2111.01). In such a case, the examiner is required to give the term "e-mail" its broadest reasonable interpretation, which the examiner judges to be the Microsoft dictionary definition (Microsoft Press Computer Dictionary).
5. Logan et al. also teaches at the citations given above claims 2, 8, 24 and 25. Logan et al. also teaches claims 20 and 21 (col. 18 lines 41-46 and col. 25 lines 41-42).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 13-15, 17, 18, 22, 23, 26 and 27 are allowed.
7. Claims 3-5 and 9-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
8. The allowance is based on search of the US patent literature only. The examiner will search the non-patent literature after applicant has put the claims into condition for allowance. Allowance is further dependent on approval by an allowance conference.
9. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter and allowance: the closest prior art, Logan et al. (US005721827A), does not teach or suggest providing incentives to a subscriber for responding to ads, or providing compensation for referrals. Sullivan et al. (US006663105B1) teaches these limitations, but the prior art does not teach or suggest adding the teachings of Sullivan et al. to those of Logan et al.
